Amazing Acai

Brazilians have been enjoying the demure and purple açai berry for years, and now Americans are discovering that it's one of the most nutritious foods available. Harvested in the rainforests of Brazil, found on special Amazonian palm trees, açai has the distinct rich taste of berries melded with chocolate. That appealing flavor isn't the only good thing about this berry—açai is packed with antioxidants, amino acids, and essential fatty acids. The super-food not only boosts energy levels and sharpens your mental focus, but it's good for your heart and helps protect against cancer. Unless you've got a trip to Brazil planned anytime soon, açai juice is your best way to sample the high-energy berry.

www.bomdia.com

Uses berries from only naturally grown Amazonian palm trees, and per Brazilian custom, features a hint of the energy-inducing Amazonian fruit, guarana. Açai partners up with either mangosteen, cacao, or antioxidant-rich blueberry or pomegranate.

BOSSA NOVA

www.bossausa.com

Sweetened by organic agave, this line-up features açai blended with more unusual pairings, like passionfruit and raspberry.

www.nakedjuice.com

Look for the Purple Machine, with purple plum and Concord grapes, or the Rainforest Açai, featuring a blend of tropical mango and pineapple. It contains 178 nutrition-packed açai berries in each 15.2 ounce bottle.

O.N.E. AMAZON AÇAÍ

www.oneaçai.com

Instead of orange juice, reach for this one, containing a solid source of vitamin C, thanks to a splash of acerola (Amazonian cherry). Made from fresh rainforest berries, these come in convenient, single-serve, pull-tab packs.

R.W. KNUDSEN ORGANIC AÇAÍ

www.knudsenjuices.com

The latest from this famed juice family combines açai with organic strawberries, raspberries, cranberries, and blackberries, for natural sweetness and a deep color.

www.sambazon.com

On the heels of their successful açai juices, mixed with exotic ingredients like guarana and yerba mate, and healthy super-greens Açai smoothies, they've now unveiled Amazon Energy, an organic all-natural energy drink made with açai and other rainforest botanicals.

ZOLA BRAZILIAN SUPERFRUIT JUICE

www.zolaçai.com

Made from 100 percent unfiltered açai pulp, this also features all-natural guarana seed powder, containing 3 percent caffeine for a healthy burst of energy. Look for two new flavors adding organic blueberry and pineapple juices.
